From our Pastor

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

When I was in high school, a lady at my church gave me some copies of a magazine called Sacred Music. I was so struck by some articles on liturgy and music written by Father Robert Skeris that I based my decision to go to Christendom College for my undergraduate education in part to study under him. As an expert at Vatican II and once rector of the Pontifical Institute for Sacred Music in Rome, he remains the most gifted teacher I have ever had in my life. Father Skeris was a demanding man: we spent hours a week in chant scholas and choirs where he gave a bunch of college kids in Front Royal the tools to perform and teach Gregorian chant and sacred polyphony. But he also was a profound theologian, and we were raised to a very high bar where we were expected to be precise, real and accurate. He was the kind of teacher that you wanted to please, and at whose feet you knew you could gain so much.

In those days, what is now called the Extraordinary Form was not permitted in many dioceses, and the Latin Mass was considered the preserve of some nostalgics and fringe groups. Fr Skeris taught us that the Church's patrimony of sacred music and a liturgy animated, not by experimentation but by a rich theology of Christian life and worship, was the true expression of our Ordinary Form of the Mass after Vatican II. From him, I learned what it meant to be true to the tradition in both theology and liturgy, but also be open to all of the gifts of the Council. Pope Benedict XVI would describe it in 2005 as the "hermeneutic of continuity": there is no rupture, but continuity in the Church's life before and after Vatican II. From Fr Skeris I learned to appreciate the theology that is behind the Mass, and why the correct and beautiful execution of sacred rites and ceremonies is so important. It is not an exercise in antiquarianism, but a living tradition by which the faith is communicated whole and entire.

A few months ago, I had the great grace to be a keynote speaker in New York at a conference on the liturgical formation of children alongside my old mentor, who preached at my First Mass. He is still at 90 going strong, teaching at Catholic University of America and living his priesthood by teaching the faith to all who share his love of Catholic faith, doctrine and worship.

In the past few weeks, I have shared with you the stories of some of the amazing priests who have formed me as a man of the Church and as a priest of Jesus Christ. There are many more. I know many of you have had priests who have touched your lives in positive ways. We should tell their stories more, and pray for them, both the living and the dead.

The parish office will be closed Monday, 29 May, in observance of Memorial Day.

office volunteers

If you would like to volunteer in the office while the Parish Secretary is away, please call Maria at 331.3901.

holy family society update

Your generosity in donations to our foster closet has been so overwhelming that our small storage unit is now overflowing!! Our needs now are for storage (shelves and clear bins), diapers and lovies/blankets. If you are interested in helping us expand our ministry and find a larger space, consider a regular monthly donation to assist with the cost of a larger facility. More details are available on our website. For more information contact us at fostercloset@princeofpeacetaylors.org.

pilgrimage with Msgr. Brovey

Msgr Brovey will be leading a pilgrimage to Rome on 26 February-9 March 2018 visiting Assisi, Florence, Orvieto and 5 days in Rome. Cost is $3998 which includes round-trip airfare from CHS, first class hotels, and guides. Early bird discounts are available. Please email Msgr Brovey for brochure: rector@charlestoncathedral.com letter from triune mercy soup kitchen

Thank you for all the lunches you prepare and serve each month at Triune Mercy Soup Center. We really appreciate all you do for us.

letter from kingstree sisters

Thanks for responding so generously to our request for cereal to be used for our food pantry programs, including our children's summer bag projects. Your contributions (including other items) are testimony to carrying out the tenets of Catholic Social Teaching. Be assured of our daily prayers for you and your church families.

Gratefully,

The Sisters, Board, Staff and Volunteers

PS Special thanks to Gary & Brenda Weekley for initiating this collection, preparing it for delivery and finally, but ever so lovingly, transporting it to Kingstree.

suggested title: Following the Call of Christ

Bishop Robert Barron, one of the great spiritual teachers of our time, presents these biblical stories of true conversion drawing from the riches of scriptural accounts. They were people just like you and me who were called by Christ - Bartimaeus, The Man Born Blind, The Woman at the Well, and Jonah and the Great Fish.
