From the Pastor

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

Dear Friends in Christ,

There is a possible apocryphal story about two great churchmen of the last century that I always find instructive about two opposing tendencies in the life of the Church. Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani was a scrappy poor boy from Trastevere in Rome who defended his faith with a tenacity that some found disconcerting. His episcopal motto was semper idem, which referred to the fact that he was always going to be the same, whether it be as a prince of the Church or as a simple parish priest. Karl Rahner was an impressive German philosopher and theologian, whose works almost singlehandedly changed how theology was taught in the middle of the 20th century. The two men were like oil and water. During Vatican II, the two men ended up in a taxi together, and Rahner saw his golden opportunity to debate with one of his chief adversaries the great themes of the day.

The wizened old cardinal didn't take the bait, and whipped out his rosary and began to pray. Rahner kept trying to goad him into a conversation, and finally, Ottaviani shut him up by saying, meno chiacchiere, più processioni – less small talk and more processions! For him, the church was drowning in this unbridled activism of words, of plans for reform and innovations in theology. The answer to this was to return to the life of piety, of prayer, and of penance.

With everything going on in the Church nowadays, I think we need to talk. But we also need to listen. We must be careful to not think that every idea that pops into our heads for the good of the Church is from God: pride can lurk behind even the most reasonable and cogent of proposed solutions. Where we are on surer ground is by rooting ourselves in the interior life. Only from there will our actions flow from that source properly formed, and ideas duly vetted.

We live in a world filled with noise, but not one enchanted by music; a world where talking heads and comment boxes overflow with words, but not one where wisdom emerges from the depths of souls in love. When we're hurting, we can either lapse into silence or endless talking. As a Church, may our encounter with the Word of God seep into our hearts and minds so that, after truly being open to listening to God and to others, our voice may be strong, and confident and secure, but most of all, true and charitable.

prayer for grandparents

Happy Grandparents Day! Join us in praying this Universal Prayer For Grandparents, which was composed by Emeritus Pope Benedict XVI in 2008 for the Catholic Grandparents Association.

Lord Jesus,
you were born of the Virgin Mary,
the daughter of Saints Joachim and Anne.
Look with love on grandparents the world over.
Protect them! They are a source of enrichment
for families, for the Church and for all of society.
Support them! As they grow older,
may they continue to be for their families
strong pillars of Gospel faith,
guardian of noble domestic ideals,
living treasuries of sound religious traditions.
Make them teachers of wisdom and courage,
that they may pass on to future generations the fruits
of their mature human and spiritual experience.

Lord Jesus,
help families and society
to value the presence and roles of grandparents.
May they never be ignored or excluded,
but always encounter respect and love.
Help them to live serenely and to feel welcomed
in all the years of life which you give them.
Mary, Mother of all the living,
keep grandparents constantly in your care,
accompany them on their earthly pilgrimage,
and by your prayers, grant that all families
may one day be reunited in our heavenly homeland,
where you await all humanity
for the great embrace of live without end. Amen!
