Letter from our Pastor

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

Dear Friends in Christ,

In last week's bulletin column, I mentioned Cornelius Jansen, the Catholic bishop who was condemned for teaching about nature and grace in a way which was perilously close to Puritanical Protestantism. There were a number of incredibly famous and fascinating people who were involved with the Jansenist movement in some way or another. A convent of nuns flourished at a place called Port-Royal under the guidance of a woman of steel named Mère Angelique. The philosopher and writer Blaise Pascal was a fan of the movement. Many were serious Christians who were horrified by the moral degeneracy they saw in both Church and State, but their obsession with their own perfection at the expense of basic human mercy and compassion, and their increasing rebellion against the communion of the Church, caused ripples within the Church for centuries. Catholics particularly in Ireland and France were formed by a Jansenist spirituality whose traces can still be discerned.

One of the more interesting aspects of the Jansenist movement was a concern over liturgical worship. A synod was held in Pistoia, Italy, in 1786, which made concrete proposals by which the Jansenists sought to manipulate the liturgy to advance their ideas. In theory, they sought to restore Christianity to a supposed primitive purity. But in doing so, they called for drastic reductions in saints feast days, indulgences, processions, images and the veneration of relics. They argued for purging from the Mass and the Divine Office what was not purely Scriptural. They called for the vernacular instead of Latin to be used at Mass. It was all a convenient way to consolidating their own power as the "pure" interpreters of the Gospel and attacking their enemies inside the Church. Interestingly enough, many of these same proposals resurfaced again in the 20th century, and, in not quite as radical a way as the Jansenists wanted, have refashioned the experience of Catholic worship ever since.

The Jesuits were the principal adversaries of the Jansenists. They were convinced that man could be saved even with imperfect contrition, and that God is always loving and merciful, putting the love of the Sacred Heart of Jesus for all men at the heart of their preaching. While the Jansenists removed images from churches and taught our own moral perfection, the Jesuits introduced the image and devotion of the Sacred Heart and taught reliance on Jesus' mercy and love. Both groups were enthusiastic and zealous in reaching others with their ideas. Interestingly enough, Jansenism was actually very popular among laypeople and religious who wanted a perfect Church that didn't necessarily have to be coextensive with the visible Church, while the Jesuit message was still very tied to the priesthood, the sacraments and visible communion with the Church.

Catholics found themselves with two very different models of living the Gospel message: one formally condemned as heretical by churchmen whose Christian witness was less than inspiring and the other which resonated deeply in Catholic people who wanted hope and the life of the tradition of the Church. Jansenism was attractive, but essentially life-denying, and so it had had a long sputtering death throughout the centuries. The devotion to the Sacred Heart, and the emphasis on the mercy and compassion of the Savior, may not have eclipsed puritanical tendencies in the Church, but certainly has won over more converts to God than the followers of Jansen. If today's laxity is a reaction to Jansenism, the answer is not in more Jansenist puritanism, but in the hope filled message of the Gospel as demonstrated in the Sacred Heart of the Divine Redeemer.

recommended advent reading

Fr Smith's advent reading is Searching for and Maintaining Peace: A Small Treatise on Peace of Heart by Fr Jacques Philippe. It can be purchased for $7.95 from Amazon.

- About the book: We live in an age characterized by agitation and lack of peace. This tendency manifests itself in our spiritual as well as our secular life. In our search for God and holiness, in our service to our neighbor, a kind of restlessness and anxiety take the place of the confidence and peace which ought to be ours. What must we do to overcome the moments of fear and distress which assail us? How can we learn to place all our confidence in God and abandon ourselves into his loving care? This is what is taught in this simple, yet profound little treatise on peace of heart. Taking concrete examples from our everyday life, the author invites us to respond in a Gospel fashion to the upsetting situations we must all confront. Since peace of heart is a pure gift of God, it is something we should seek, pursue and ask him for without cease. This book is here to help us in that pursuit.

thanksgiving needs

Did you know our St. Vincent de Paul Society helps between 170-200 people every month with food, utility assistance and clothing? Together with the Knights of Columbus 9184, they have identified over 100 families in need of generosity this Thanksgiving. From monies raised at the 24th annual Craft Fair & Gift Show, 90 meals will be purchased! But, there are more in need. Here are ways to help:

- consider supporting a family in need with a donation of $50/meal (in an envelope marked Thanksgiving and dropped in a SVdP box in the Church)
- help deliver meals on Thanksgiving morning! Sign up at <http://bit.ly/turkeyPOP>
- donate gently used coats for children in sizes medium, large and XL (a few baby and toddler sizes are needed) (marked in box in Narthex)

Questions? Contact Simone Imber (SvdP) at imber.simone@gmail.com.

parish office closed

The Parish office will close at noon on Tuesday, 26 November through Friday, 29 November in observance of Thanksgiving.

mini advent market

During the Advent & Christmas seasons, we will refrain from any group selling items in the Narthex after Mass. Therefore, we encourage anyone who would normally have asked for space during that timeframe to reach out to Angela Calabro for a table on the weekend of 23-24 November. Vendors:

- Handmade Advent wreaths: average price is $40 for small and $55 for large and includes candles.
- Olivewood Hand Carvings from Bethlehem These carvings are made by Christians of Bethlehem who rely on sales as their source of income
- Christmas cards for sale by the Knights of Columbus
- Angel Tree by St Vincent de Paul Society. If you take an Angel Tree card, please provide your name and phone number on the provided sign up sheet on the table next to the Angel Tree. Presents are due back no later than 15 December. In fairness to other kids in the same family, only purchase the items on the card.
- POP Christmas Ornament featuring our nativity scene. Each ornament is $20 and available at the parish office.
- Baked Goods from the parish school perfect for gifting around the holidays
- POP Watercolor reprint of our original watercolor Christmas Card 2019 by Theresa Barnett feast of the immaculate conception

The Immaculate Conception of The Blessed Virgin Mary celebrates the conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the womb of her mother, Saint Anne, free from original sin by virtue of the merits of her son Jesus. The Feast day is 8 December, which lands on Sunday this year. Therefore, it has been moved to Monday, 9 December. Mass are times are: 7a Low, 12p Latin & 7p Sung.

Happy 10th Anniversary, Fr Tomlinson!

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

A Letter from Fr Christopher Smith on the occasion of Fr Tomlinson's 10th ordination anniversary:

I first met Richard Tomlinson when I was a newly minted priest and he was just coming into the diocese. We both survived St Mary's, Greenville together, and forged a friendship that has been one of the most rewarding of my life. I was privileged to be at his Ordination as a Priest and First Mass, and I was struck how the date of his ordination was the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin in the Temple, the beautiful feast of the virtue of religion. There were many reasons in 2011 that I accepted to come to Prince of Peace, but one of the highest on my list was to be able to build something beautiful for God with a man who, year by year, I increase in respect for. He and I may have almost opposite temperaments and character, but in its weird way, I think that complementary is one of the many graces that make Prince of Peace work. I'm blessed to have my "A team" of staff in the parish, but, if there is a jewel in the crown, it really is the man who we all refer to affectionately as Father T.

I know for a fact that Father T would do his (in)famous eye roll and infectious laugh to hear himself described like that, but he, and his ministry, deserve to be, not just commemorated, but celebrated! There are many who call Prince of Peace their spiritual home, and many more beyond the confines of this parish, whose lives will never be the same because of the way he responds Fiat day in and day out to the Lord's call for discipleship and ministry.

I was present at Father's defense of his doctoral dissertation in biblical theology at the Angelicum in Rome, and it was there that I finally began to get a grasp on the formidable intellect that hides out behind his quiet exterior. I have learned a tremendous amount from this man. In any number of cases, we have been talking about any number of subjects under the sun, and I am amazed at his breadth and depth of knowledge. History, politics, sports, classic movies, food, languages, theology, the Bible: he has to be the most intellectually and culturally stimulating cleric I have ever met. And y'all know, I am always searching out deep conversation partners to drink deeply from their wisdom. His humility in the way in which he shares that seemingly endless knowledge is something I keep a holy envy for!

I'm also privileged to get to see how Father lives his priesthood in a way that many of you might not get to see, at least the way I do. Richard Tomlinson is a priest's priest. This is a man who has a deep interior life, and much of the spiritual powerhouse that is our parish is from his constant prayer. To see him celebrate Mass and pray the traditional office, to study and spend time in contemplative prayer with God, in the church, in the rectory chapel, is edifying and delightful. Father and I, in theory, divide up the week for who's on call for emergencies, but in so many cases, as I am burdened by the administrative tasks proper to the pastor, he somehow attends to those important events. You know when this priest has been at the bedside of a loved one; you can't easily forget the presence of the Lord shining through him. Mercy and compassion with him are not showpieces, but authentic and spring forth from a deep faith. You will never know the consolation this priest of God has brought so many people for so many years.

We playfully joke about our parish as the confession capital of Greenville. While Father T many not be Padre Pio, he has an ever increasing number of people who seek out his spiritual counsel. Even though he is my parochial vicar, and in churchese I am his "superior", I am blessed to learn from his prudent and loving counsel. I'm one of my many who look to him as a spiritual father, and at the same time have the opportunity to live, work and pray with him as a brother. I've lived with many priests in my time, but I have never enjoyed the experience as much I have with our Father T.

Ad multos annos to a much-loved father, brother and friend. Please join me and our parish family in celebrating ten years of faithful ministry for Father T, and in looking forward with joyful hope to so many more.

basketball camp

Skills & Drills Basketball is a Christmas camp at St Joseph's High School, to help teach kids the fundamentals of the game while enhancing their overall basketball IQ. Kids at all skill levels are welcome and can expect intense drills that will help improve their basketball skills. The camp will focus on dribbling, shooting, defense and game situations. The last hour of each day will be directed towards live play and competition for prizes. This is for grades 3-8, boys/girls, 9-11 except Sunday is 2-4p. Price is $50. If interested, please contact Landry Assinesi at landryassinesi@andersonuniversity.edu or 626.321.2425

catholic quiz bowl

All students in grades 5 to 12 are invited to take part in the Catholic Quiz Bowl of South Carolina to be held on Saturday, 8 February 2020 at Our Lady of the Hills in Columbia, SC. The Catholic Quiz Bowl is a fast-paced game of knowledge, with questions pertaining to the Catholic Faith, the Bible, the Saints, the Sacraments, etc. Students play on teams of 3 to 4 players, going up against other teams, in an effort to be the first to push their buzzers and give the correct answers to the questions. Winning teams will receive cash prizes. More information and entry forms are available: catholic.quiz.bowl.sc@gmail.com at catholicquizbowlsc.wordpress.com. Entries are due on January 8.
