Letter from our Pastor

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

Dear Friends in Christ,

The Diocesan Bicentennial Campaign is now in its active phase at Prince of Peace. We are asking all that call Prince of Peace their spiritual home to prayerfully consider giving 5% of their income to the weekly offertory, 1% to the Bishop's Annual Appeal, and 4% to the Bicentennial Campaign for the duration of the campaign. We recognize that there are so many worthy causes, but participating in this campaign at this high level will allow you to invest in the future of both our parish and our diocese at a very profound level. Your sacrificial giving is a seed which, when planted and nourished, will yield much beautiful fruit.

By now, you will have received a packet from us which explains in detail what the campaign is all about, and how the 50% to the parish and 50% to the diocese will be spent. I encourage you, if you have any questions, to please contact Phil Head this week in the office, and he will be glad to answer what he can, or get you in contact with who can answer your questions. I would ask that you get in your pledge cards as soon as possible, so we can wrap up our active phase of the campaign.

I admit that I was initially quite skeptical of the timing and prudence of the campaign at this sensitive time in the Church's history. But time and time again, I have been proved to be of too little faith. As I have seen the campaign develop, I have been edified by the investment and engagement of the Catholic people of South Carolina, who are determined to think forward and upward for their faith and its future. In the quiet phase of the campaign before its public launch, some amazing Prince of Peace parishioners pledged a significant sacrificial amount to the campaign because they believe in what their parish is doing and see the needs here, and are also convinced that the needs at the diocesan level the Bishop has identified are also worthy of support. Education, seminarians and charity: they are all ways of paying it forward, as it were, and when we choose to invest our time, talent, and treasure in other ways, we miss some incredible opportunities to build something beautiful for God.

Thank you for your sacrifice. It means so much, not only to me, but to so many people you might never even get to meet! Let's get those pledge cards in now, and as we start getting our portion of the proceeds, you will see some great work being done right here at home and all over the diocese!

Needing food shouldn't require compromising wellness or dignity. That's what we love about Catholic Charities Greenville pantry, which is truly a mini-grocery store experience where clients can shop with wellness as a focus - stocking their grocery carts with meats, fruits, vegetables and grains.

Can you serve as a shopping buddy volunteer in their pantry (2300 Old Buncombe Rd, Greenville, SC 29609) on Tuesdays (anytime between 12-4) and/or Thursdays (anytime between 12-6)? The shopping buddy volunteers go around the pantry with a client to assist in selecting meats, fruits, vegetables, and grains. And, the shopping buddy helps the client to their car with food items.

If interested in being a shopping buddy (or helping with administrative tasks, data entry, sorting/stocking), schedule a tour and orientation (1-1.5 hours) with Gracie Ortiz, Catholic Charities Regional Coordinator for the Upstate, 864-331-2626 and gortiz@charlestondiocese.org. This orientation/tour helps folks discern what is the best fit for them.
