Letter from our Pastor

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

Dear Friends in Christ,

Every Advent and Lent, and sometimes during the summer, I encourage the parish as a whole, or sections of the parish, to do some spiritual reading. There is so much out there, and we can easily waste time on trash if we're not careful. I tend to recommend texts from the classical spiritual tradition, but sometimes I recommend more modern texts, some of which are easy to obtain and others which are not. Some are pretty easy to read, and others require a bit more slogging through. When we had two Catholic bookstores in Greenville, I could give them a "heads up" and they could buy multiples of the book to get it into your hands easier.

With both bookstores no longer extant, you are the ones who have to figure out where you get the book from. When we place a link in the bulletin about the book, that is not an endorsement of where to get the book from, but a place to gather all of the pertinent information (title, edition, pages, ISBN number etc) to then make a spiritually mature decision as to where to make your purchase.

You will not be surprised to know that I am a very big fan of independent booksellers and local businesses, and often I will use the information I find in Jeff Bezos' world to track down the same book in a different venue. As a parish, we are not in the business of encouraging or discouraging specific boycotts against companies and products. There's so much information and disinformation out there, it would be beyond the reach of our parish staff to vet all of that information.

At the same time, however, it is important that Christians use their conscience to do their due diligence so that when they spend their money, they try their best to support as little as possible, or not at all, organizations that support the culture of death and the defrauding of workers. The way that our economy seems to be going often makes it very convenient and inexpensive to support such organizations, but our choices in these matters can make a difference.

It is an exciting time to be alive. More people have more purchasing power for items from all over the world than ever before, and this means that economic development in underdeveloped countries is more of a reality than ever before. But, as we learned during the Industrial Revolution, there is often a dark side to that development which leads to abuse and exploitation of human workers, despoiling natural resources and encouraging sinful and destructive behaviors. The social teaching of the Catholic Church is a powerful corrective to an inhumane economic and political structure, but it is sadly not well known even among Catholics.

march is dedicated to st joseph

"It is, then, natural and worthy that as the Blessed Joseph ministered to all the needs of the family at Nazareth and gift it about with his protection, he should now cover with the cloak of his heavenly patronage and defend the Church of Jesus Christ." - Pope Leo XIII. Here are some ideas on how to honor St Joseph:

- the Holy Father has proclaimed a "Year of Saint Joseph" from, 8 December 2020, to 8 December 2021 in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the declaration of St Joseph as Patron of the Universal Church
- pray the Litany of St Joseph, the Seven Sorrows and Joys of Saint Joseph, the Chaplet of St Joseph, or simply add "St. Joseph, Head of the Holy Family, pray for us" to your day.
- honor your father (or father figure) by describing your gratitude, calling him, making him dinner, offering a Mass in his honor, or visiting his gravesite on St Joseph's Day (19 March)
- Offer up your labor out of love and gratitude for St. Joseph. Remember that keeping holy the Sabbath and abstaining from labor on Sunday honors St. Joseph, too!
- Make a St Joseph altar or find a way to include St Joseph in your home
- Find ways to give to families in need, such as our food pantry, following St Joseph's loving example

totus tuus returns

Our wildly successful Vacation Bible School, Totus Tuus, will return again, 10-16 July 2021! Mark you calendars now for all entering 1st-12th graders (evening program for 7-12th graders). We need of 2 host families for our male and female team members, dinner host families, and adult volunteers for each grade level. Please email Maria Barontini!

What makes Totus Tuus special? The Totus Tuus program was developed by Catholics and teaches the Catholic faith. Totus Tuus is run by a team of enthusiastic, college-age adults who are on fire for our faith. The Totus Tuus program follows a 6-year curriculum cycle. So even if you came last year, or three years ago, the material is going to be different. Not to mention, the team changes each year so the leaders will have a totally fresh perspective.

An Extraordinary Parish for Ordinary People

celebrating the liturgical life of the church in YOUR home

3 March: Feast of Saint Katharine Drexel, the second American-born saint to be canonized. She was born Catherine Marie Drexel in 1858 to a wealthy Philadelphia banker. Her mother passed away five weeks after her birth. Her father remarried and had another daughter. Devout Catholics, they instilled in their children the idea that wealth was meant to be shared. They regularly gave food, clothing and rent assistance to the poor. Catherine's life changed when her beloved stepmother died after suffering from cancer. Two years later, her father also died. Catherine's father left the largest fortune recorded in Philadelphia at that time. His daughters were left with a large trust fund. The rest was donated to charity. In 1885, Catherine and her sisters traveled to the Western states, visiting Indian reservations. Seeing dire poverty, Catherine used her money to build schools, supply food and clothing, and provide salaries for teachers on these reservations. In 1887 she established her first boarding school for Indians in Santa Fe. That same year, the Drexel sisters were given a private audience with Pope Leo XIII. They asked him for missionaries to help the Indians. The Pope suggested that Catherine herself become a missionary. Catherine decided she would give herself and her inheritance to God through service to both Native and African Americans. She wrote, "The feast of St. Joseph brought me the grace to give the remainder of my life to the Indians and the Colored." In 1891, she made her vows as a religious. Taking the name Mother Katharine, she established the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament for Indians and Colored. Founding and staffing schools for both Native and African Americans throughout the country was their priority. In 1894, she purchased 1,600 acres in Virginia and built a boarding school for black girls. Nearby was St. Emma's school for black boys built by her sister, Louise. Soon after, a school for Pueblo children was established in New Mexico. In 1915, Mother Katharine purchased a vacant campus in New Orleans and reopened it as Xavier College (now Xavier University). Xavier was the first and only Catholic college for African-Americans and trained teachers to educate black children. Mother Katharine lived the rest of her life with extreme frugality, wearing a single pair of shoes for ten years and using her pencils down to the erasers. From age of 33 until her death, she dedicated her life and personal fortune of $20 million to her work. Katharine had a severe heart attack at 77 that forced her to retire. She spent the rest of her life in quiet and intense prayer. She died on March 3, 1955 at the age of 96. At the time of her death, 501 members of her order were teaching in 63 schools and had missions in 21 states. Katharine is remembered for her love of the Eucharist and her desire for unity of all peoples. She believed all should have access to a quality education. St. Katharine was beatified in 1988 and canonized on October 1, 2000 by Pope John Paul II. St. Katharine Drexel is the patron saint of racial justice and philanthropists.

Ideas for celebrating in your home:

- St. Katharine dedicated her life to helping the Native and African American poor. Her feast is a good time to try a Native American recipe. How about Hopi Corn Stew with cornbread? Or Buffalo Baked Ziti? Or, try making Three Sisters Soup (Native tribes relied on the "three sisters" of corn, squash, beans to survive harsh winters).
- St. Katharine had a great love for the Eucharist, the center and source of her activity. Make a family visit to adoration of the Blessed Sacrament today.
- St. Katharine grew up in a wealthy home that always shared with others. In her memory, could you give of your time, talent, or material goods to help those in need? Contact St. Vincent de Paul, Triune Mercy Center-, or other such charitable organization to ask how your family can help.
- Learn more about St. Katharine Drexel and the order she founded, Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament, at katharinedrexel.org.
